- Co-Chair Michelle Wilsdon encouraged the AEB group to use materials such as the IAMC-TMX's Terms of Reference or the Government of Canada's Principles respecting the Government of Canada's relationship with Indigenous peoples to guide their evaluation work. David Ash responded that the approach can be adjusted and noted that the group was looking to the Committee for guidance.
- Tribal Chief Tyrone McNeil noted the need to co-develop the objectives of the evaluation to break with colonial structures and to create a new space for the process. Tribal Chief McNeil also raised concerns around evaluating the two IAMCs through one process.

- Michel Gould noted that a horizontal working group comprised of an equal number of federal and Indigenous representatives will direct the evaluation team and is intended to be a flexible process. Tracy Fleck noted that Carleen Thomas, Grand Chief Doug Kelly and Michelle Wilsdon (with Tribal Chief Tyrone McNeil as proxy) had volunteered to sit on the horizontal working group and that the next steps are to arrange a meeting for the working group to begin the process.

DAY 1 ADJOURNED

DAY 2: March 4, 2021 – Renewal of IAMCs

ITEM: WELCOME & OVERVIEW

Discussion:

- Grand Chief Doug Kelly opened the meeting with a prayer song.
- Committee members did a roundtable introduction and NRCan Assistant Deputy Ministers Ellen Burack and Glenn Hargrove introduced themselves to the group.

ITEM: PRESENTATION FROM THE INDIGENOUS CAUCUS ON VISION FOR RENEWAL

Discussion:

- Co-Chair Michelle Wilsdon presented a slide deck on Indigenous Caucus' vision for renewal. She acknowledged Chief Ernie Crey's contributions to the Committee and noted that Chief Crey's vision was to work towards co-management. Michelle shared with the group the successes of the Committee to date including community connections, community capacity supports, an increase in Indigenous oversight of the TMEP and the provision of Indigenous advice to regulators and the proponent. Additionally, a systems approach to influencing systemic change was discussed that used the IAMC-TMX's work on Indigenous Monitoring as an example.
- Michelle Wilsdon noted that Caucus' vision is grounded in UNDRIP, the TRC Calls to Action, treaty rights and the inherent rights of Indigenous peoples. Michelle also shared that there were three areas of focus for the renewal process: relationships, policy and regulations and oversight.
- Under the focus area of relationships, the following were noted:
  - Regular meetings with Ministers/DMs
  - Letter to the Natural Resources Minister confirming support of renewal principles
  - An updated Terms of Reference to reflect Indigenous oversight and other aspirations
  - A culturally appropriate dispute resolution process
  - Code of conduct for Committee and staff
  - An updated organizational structure that is mindful of power imbalances and moves towards a shared secretariat
  - More resources for the Indigenous Caucus to mitigate burnout
  - Tier 1 communications and engagement
  - Continuance of grants and contributions programs for communities.
- Under the focus area of policy and regulations, the following were noted:
  - The continuation of Caucus advice to governments (fed/prov/muni) and TMC
  - CER filings manual review and engagement

- Further development on policies and protocols on planned disturbances, chance finds, heritage and cultural sites
- Defining regulatory excellence from an Indigenous perspective
- Strategic links to the CER Indigenous Advisory Committee
- Review of the broader regulatory framework
- Under the focus area of oversight, the following were noted:
  - Implementing the Policy Framework for improvements to the Indigenous Monitoring Program
  - Exploring an Indigenous Inspection unit model within CER
  - Transition planning from construction phase to pipeline operations monitoring for the life of the pipe (IM)
  - Continuance of existing programs under the IMSC/SESC
  - Indigenous “all hazards” emergency response program development
  - Marine shipping safety and aquatic marine monitoring for the marine-based nations
  - Involvement in the provincial regulatory activities as construction continues in both Alberta and BC
- Michelle Wilsdon also noted a desire to strengthen relationships with the other departments involved with the IAMC-TMX, as the primary relationship thus far has been with NRCan and CER.

ITEM: ROUNDTABLE AND DISCUSSION

Discussion:

- Assistant Deputy Minister Ellen Burack thanked Michelle for her presentation and the rest of the Indigenous Caucus for their input and emphasized NRCan’s commitment to the discussion. Ellen noted the fall time period for bringing forward options for consideration and recognized that there was a commitment through the lifecycle of the project. Additionally, Ellen signalled NRCan’s interest in understanding the range of changes that Caucus and federal departments are interested in seeing and emphasized that not everything needs to be solved through the IAMC-TMX’s Terms of Reference as the renewal conversation can identify issues that may need to be addressed through another forum.
- A roundtable discussion centred around two questions put forward by the Indigenous Caucus:
  - What has your department been thinking about with respect to co-development and renewal of the IAMC-TMX?
  - What are other areas of opportunity for collaborative work within your department that we can explore further?
- Each member of the Federal Caucus shared their department’s commitment to continuing the work at the IAMC-TMX table and a desire to work collaboratively.
- Indigenous Caucus members expressed concern that NRCan may slow the pace of change for the IAMC-TMX and for this reason, they were seeking interaction with the Minister and Deputy Minister. ADM Ellen Burack acknowledged members’ comments and asked what progress can be made in the short term while the group identifies where it would like to eventually go.

ITEM: NEXT STEPS

Discussion:

- Members discussed change in a broader sense and how it may apply to the Committee. Tracy Sletto (CER) told the group she would like to have a conversation about how to support the future of the Committee and asked if there was need for another structure to steward the work along.

- Michelle Wilsdon invited ADM Ellen Burack to reflect on the critical path between shared interest and developing options for cabinet consideration. Michelle inquired if the government was interested in expanding the scope of the Committee. Ellen responded that it would be useful to hear from the Committee about what going further would entail and the value of doing so in the short-term; Ellen also reminded the group that she would not be the decision-maker and that this would be a cabinet decision in the end. Members drew attention to a trust deficit between the federal government and communities and the need to show communities that the government is not working against them.
- The Indigenous Caucus reiterated the need to engage with senior federal officials and the federal partners acknowledged this request.
- Members decided against an interim meeting and agreed to discuss the renewal process in more detail at the April 22 meeting.
- To close the meeting Co-Chair Tracy Fleck thanked everyone for their contributions and thanked them for the respectful discussion.
